If neither of these works for you, just ask one of our helpful staff members, and we will work with you to arrange the test.

Eagle Quest

Eagle Quest is a specialized program for scouts who are in their first year of scouting, often having just crossed over from cub scouting, though first year scouts of all ages are encouraged to participate in the program. The program is built around the idea that rather than focusing on just completing requirements, a scout should be well trained in their skills, and the completion of rank requirements is only part of the process.

The Eagle Quest program consists of 4 hours of scheduled program each day, two in the morning and two in the afternoon. We believe that the first year a scout attends summer camp will set a precedent for the rest of his scouting career, so we want our first-year campers to explore as much of camp as possible. During program time, Eagle Quest participants will go to different program areas in small patrols led by one of our Eagle Quest staff. In these areas, Eagle Quest scouts will work on different scouting skills including fire-making, swimming, first aid, pioneering, and others.

On Thursday afternoon our Eagle Quest scouts take a five-mile hike, ending at their outpost location for the night. On outpost, they have the chance to cook their own food and have a great time away from the main camp. Friday morning they pack everything back up and come back to the main camp to participate in our polar bear swim.

At the end of the week, hard-working Eagle Quest scouts will walk away with a strong foundation in basic scouting skills, several requirements from Tenderfoot to First Class, and a merit badge or two to go along with it.

Merit badges Offered:

Prior to entering the dining hall, Scouts will be asked to demonstrate their ability to tie specific knots. A different knot, as outlined here, is the Scout's "key" to entering the dining hall. Either a staff member, or preferably, a patrol leader or senior patrol leader in your unit will teach Scouts who cannot successfully tie the knot. Under no circumstances will anyone be denied access to the dining hall. This is an opportunity for Scouts to hone their skills while also serving as an opportunity for the camp staff to interact personally with the campers.

Advancement Records

Merit Badges:

Prior to arrival at camp, complete a merit badge record (“blue card”) for each merit badge a scout wishes to earn. Make sure that all information on the left side of the form is complete and correct, including the scout’s name, unit number, merit badge, and any requirements already completed. The unit leader should sign the form, indicating approval for the scout to work on the merit badge. The scoutmaster should bring all blue cards to the meeting with area directors on Sunday night so that they can have their rosters prepared for Monday morning. The merit badge instructor retains the record while the Scout works towards the merit badge, making note of the requirements completed.

Information for Applicant

- A merit badge application can be submitted only if you are a registered Scout and you are a member of a troop.
- The merit badge is earned by completing the requirements of each merit badge.
- Merit badge applications are not accepted for submission until you have completed the requirements of each merit badge.

Information for Counselor

- Merit badge requirements must be completed in accordance with the application and merit badge.
- The Scout must have the Scoutmaster's approval to work on a merit badge.
- You may not change your requirements, and you may not change your counselor or counselor's name.

What you should fill out on a blue card before camp.

Simon Kenton Council camps use a special merit badge requirement tracking sheet due to the volume of merit badges being worked towards by scouts. On this, the merit badge instructor keeps track of attendance and completed requirements. You can speak to the program area directors at any time if you’re curious about how your scouts are coming along in their badges. On Friday afternoon, the merit badge instructor completes all merit badge records and master rosters. The merit badge records are sorted into the unit’s advancement packet for distribution after closing campfire. The master roster is submitted to the camp office and kept on file at the Council service center for one year.

Rank Requirements:

Our camp staff provides instruction in the particular skills, but we will not sign for requirements in a Scout's handbook. The unit determines the point at which a Scout "completes" a requirement, and unit leader signs the Scout's book. The first-year camper program does provide a signed record to the unit stating requirements worked on in the program. This is distributed in the unit's advancement packet upon checkout.

Other Awards:

Records for awards such as BSA Lifeguard, Mile Swim, Snorkeling BSA, Totin' Chip, etc., will be generated by the camp staff. Completed records will be part of the unit's advancement packet.

Flexible and Structured Scheduling

You will notice that many merit badges fall under flexible scheduling (noted by the word "Open" on the tentative schedule). This is designed to meet the needs of individual scouts by eliminating large classes and concentrating on more personal instruction. Scouts will be able to work at their own pace without the constraints of block schedules and the individual needs of many other scouts. A few program areas (such as aquatics) have retained a more rigid schedule. This is primarily due to safety concerns and limited resources. The structured schedule classes are especially helpful for boys who like working in a class-type setting with other people or who need some help getting motivated to work on badges.

Here's how flexible scheduling works:

Scouts may come to work on a badge at any time during the open period - just walk in and talk to the instructor. For future sessions, scouts should come back at a time mutually agreeable with the instructor or the same time each day. Usually, scouts will find themselves working in small groups, rather than in large classes. Scouts will be able to join sessions in progress, and then catch up on what they missed prior to arrival after others leave. Session length will vary and depend on the subject and the scout's knowledge of the subject. In planning individual scout's schedules, you may want to allow 45 minutes to an hour for each badge. Requirements that scouts are very familiar with will be completed very quickly. Scouts will receive additional instruction in those areas of a badge where they are struggling or have little knowledge. Scouts may begin work on additional badges mid-week if they find they have extra time. If a particular session or area is very busy, ask the instructor if there is a better time to try to come back.

Flexible scheduling exists to accommodate those scouts who work best at their own pace. Scouts will no longer have to worry about rushing all the way across camp from one class to the next. Scouts should be able to plan their journey across camp more accordingly.

Make enough copies of the camp schedule for each scout, each patrol, and each troop leader. Using the camp schedule, block out times for troop wide activities. This is your troop schedule. Next, have patrols block out time for activities the patrol members are going to do together. This is their patrol schedule. The open blocks (the free time) remaining on a scout's schedule defines the time that he has to pursue his personal camp goals and activities. This is the scout's schedule.

If a scout finds a conflict between a troop or patrol program obligation and his personal schedule, he should ask the camp staff member he is working with on his personal program for possible solutions. The camp staff is usually flexible and accommodating.

Scouts will receive credit only for the requirements that they actually complete at camp. Counselors will be happy to review requirements completed before camp to help a Scout finish a badge. Please see the Camp Oyo prerequisites list for information on which requirements should be completed before attending camp.

Here's how structured scheduling works:

Some merit badges are harder to offer at camp than others, but we want to make sure we provide many different opportunities for the scouts. These merit badges become possible to offer in a structured schedule. Our instructors can handle larger groups with the resources we have available, so many of our most popular merit badges fall into a set time.

Some scouts may do better by signing them up for classes in a structured schedule. They can be held accountable for getting their requirements done. Some scouts also appreciate the planned classes because it helps them focus on the material.

To sign up for a structured-schedule class, the scout should approach the program area director on Sunday night during our Merit Badge Midway, which is a chance to explore camp and learn about our different program areas. The program director will be prepared for them at class the next day. If they can bring their blue card to the instructor that night, even better!

If you miss the opportunity to speak with the area director Sunday night, we would still love for you to show up Monday with your blue card. The instructor can put you right in the class, and you're ready to go.

National Accreditation

All Simon Kenton Council summer camps are accredited by the Boy Scouts of America. Visited annually by a team knowledgeable and trained in camping standards, our camps maintain a top rating for their facilities, programs, and staff. Rules for acceptance and participation in the programs are the same for everyone without regard to race, color, age, handicap, or national origin.

Prerequisites

Below you will notice a listing of prerequisites for each merit badge offered at camp. You should pay attention to those that are “Starting Requirements” (SR) and those that are “Prerequisites.”

Starting Requirements (SR)

These are requirements that the Scout needs to complete before taking the merit badge/activity. For example, a Scout must complete Swimming Merit Badge before starting Lifesaving. If the Scout has not completed these Starting Requirements before coming to Oyo, they will not be able to sign up for the merit badge/activity.

Prerequisites

These are requirements that the Scout needs to complete before camp if they want to complete the merit badge/activity while at camp. For example, a Scout must complete requirement 9 of Weather before coming to Oyo if they want to complete it while at camp. Prerequisites are shown without the (SR) noting under the Prerequisite column.

Referenced requirements are from the 2018 Boy Scout Requirements book. Merit badge pamphlets may be outdated so please use this book when inquiring about requirement specifics. The following merit badges have revisions for 2018: Basketry, Canoeing, Environmental Science, First Aid, Fish & Wildlife Management, Fishing, Mammal Study, Personal Fitness, Swimming, Whitewater, and Woodcarving.

Levels of Difficulty

Listed in parentheses after each merit badge/activity is a letter that indicates its difficulty.

A - Difficult merit badge/activity, appropriate for older scouts with 3 or more years in Scouting.

B - Appropriate for advancing Scouts with 2 or more years in Scouting.

C - Easy merit badge/activity, appropriate for beginning Scouts.

Comments

Comments listed for each merit badge/activity provide additional details that will help you in your planning and preparations.

Sometimes it's not possible to complete all of the merit badge requirements at camp due to time requirements, approvals and/or proper instruction. As a result, Scouts will receive a partial at camp and are encouraged to find an approved Troop or district counselor to finish at home.
